

Churchill Club Presents PARC@40: Can Innovators Learn from the Past?

SAN JOSE, Calif. – (Marketwire – Nov. 15, 2010) – The Churchill Club, Silicon Valley's premier business and technology forum, today announced it will host an evening event, "PARC@40: Can Innovators Learn From the Past?," focusing on the profound innovation that PARC (the Palo Alto Research Center Inc.) has brought to the Silicon Valley over the past 40 years. The event will also recognize PARC's 40th anniversary and the Churchill Club's upcoming 25th anniversary.

A premier center for commercial innovation, PARC is home to scientists making breakthroughs in clean tech, the newest phase of networking and other commercially impactful products. During this panel, current and former PARC innovators will look at the last four decades of development and innovation and examine what we can learn from the past, whether business and innovation can co-exist and what is next when it comes to technology innovation.

Speakers at this event include: Raj Apte, Area Manager, Prototype Devices and Circuits, PARC; Ron Kaplan, Principal Researcher, Microsoft Bing, Microsoft; David Liddle, Venture Partner, US Venture Partners and Teresa Lunt, VP & Director of Computer Science Laboratory, PARC.
